

The Ultimate Bachelorette Party Packing List

Wear during travel

- 1 pair of dark blue jeans
- 1 T-shirt
- The bulkiest shoes you want to bring (tennis shoes, boots)
- A jacket

In your carry-on

- 1 pair of dark blue or black jeans
- Your favorite pair of shorts or a skirt (2 pairs if you aren't packing any other bottoms)
- 1-2 going-out dress (I recommend an LBD)
- 1 sundress (especially if there is a shower planned)
- 3 T-shirts or tops you love (2 casual, 1 fancy)
- 1 pair of heels or wedges (choose a pair that can go with both your fancy dress and fancy top + jeans)
- 1 pair sandals or flats
- 1 pair pajamas
- Underwear for each day, and a few extras, just in case
- Bras: Wear one of the bras you'll need and pack one extra in your suitcase.
- Socks and/or tights

Pro tip: Pack your underwear, bras, bathing suits and socks in the top mesh portion of your suitcase. This makes it easy to find these small items during travel.

- Small clutch/purse for going out
- Flight001 travel bags: You can fill these with wet and sandy beach things or your dirty laundry to keep the other clothes in your suitcase smelling fresh.
- Hair dryer, curling iron and/or straightener: Try to be selective about how many of these you need. Buddy up with a friend and each bring one if you can.
- Makeup bag + makeup removal wipes or face wash
- Liquid toiletries. You'll need: Shampoo, conditioner, hair spray, lotion, sunscreen, body wash, face wash, bug spray. If you use a loofah in the shower, put it in the same bag as your liquid toiletries. Now you have all your shower things in one place.
Pro tip: Add all your liquid toiletries to a Ziplock bag, seal it well and place it in the OUTSIDE zip pocket of your suitcase. This way, if something explodes and leaks, it will not get all over your clothes. Make sure to get 3 oz. travel-size items of everything (samples are great for this too—great way to try out those Birch-box items you have lying around).
- Non-liquid toiletries: These go in a separate bag from your liquid toiletries. They include deodorant, toothpaste, floss, nail file, nail scissors/clippers, tweezers, etc.

- Medicine: I always carry a separate ziplock bag filled with medicines I might need while traveling. Mine includes stomach medicine like Tums, a painkiller like Advil, an allergy medication like Claritin and band-aids. If you have prescriptions, be sure you include them as well.
- Jewelry: Accessories are an easy way to jazz up a simple outfit without adding bulk to your suitcase. Find a small jewelry tote and fill it up with your favorites.
- A lint roller and Tide pen
- Any gifts or party favors you need for the weekend

If you're going to the beach, add:

- 2 bathing suits (they're small, so you get 2)
- 1 pair flip-flops
- Foldable beach tote
- 1 beach cover-up
- Foldable beach hat

In your purse

Your purse is your second carry-on. Choose a big one for your trip. You'll need:

- Cell phone
- Cell phone charger, including power cord
- Portable solar charger: When your battery is dying, these are a life saver.
- Small umbrella
- iPad or Kindle
- Lip gloss or lip balm
- Cash!: I know a lot of people don't carry cash. But a bachelorette weekend is one time you should make a special trip to the ATM.
- Checkbook: Likewise, if you owe the host a good bit of money for lodging or bachelorette activities, writing a check may be the simplest option. That, or see if the host has Venmo.
- Passport or ID: Whichever you need for your destination.
- Tissues
- Small mirror
- Snack: I love Larabars and always have one in my bag. Way better for you than airport food!
- Printouts of your boarding passes and itinerary
